Liability and Release

I and my child understand that during my child's participation in the URI Track and Field Clinic he or she may be exposed to risks associated with participation in sports activities. Participation may be physically strenuous and my child agrees to follow instructions, rules and safety precautions. My child and I know the risks involved and we voluntarily assume these risks. I also certify that my child is in good health and has no physical limitations that would preclude my child's safe participation in the URI Track and Field Clinic. I agree that I will not hold the University of Rhode Island liable for any expenses, property damage, or personal injuries sustained while participating in the URI Track and Field Clinic.
